

Further Statement of Todd R. Bowers:

I swear under penalty of perjury that the following facts are true:

I intended the statement I submitted to the Judicial Conduct Commission dated July 20, 2004, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, to be a sworn statement. In the event that was not clear, I hereby swear and affirm that my July 20, 2004 statement to the Judicial Conduct Commission is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge.

Further, I have attached a true and accurate copy of the official court reporter publication of the case of In re Detention of Thorell, 149 Wn.2d 724 (2003). I have highlighted that portion of the Court's holding in which it discusses the task of the appellate court when the claim is made on appeal is that there is insufficient evidence in the record supporting the conclusion that a person is a sexually violent predator. Thorell, 149 Wn.2d at 758- (pages 758-766). The Supreme Court's analysis of this issue in the Charles Johnson case is found at pages 765-66.
